Celebrate 20 Years with World Savvy!

This year, World Savvy celebrates 20 years of reimagining education for a more globally connected world – creating a generation of changemakers who know more, care more, and do more for their communities and the world - right now. From providing programming to one high school in Oakland, CA in 2002 to serving more than 808,700 students and 6,800 educators, your support of World Savvy has made all the difference.

As we celebrate this incredible milestone, we also remain more committed than ever to our Vision 2035 - engaging a network of 10,000 K-12 schools in diverse geographies across the US, reaching an estimated 5 million students.

As one of our most engaged supporters, we invite you to join us again in this vital work by sponsoring our 20th Anniversary celebrations throughout 2022.

Imagine a school where every student knows they belong. A classroom where every student knows that their identity is valuable — a core component of their learning that connects them to their peers and to the wider world. An education system that empowers educators and prepares students for success in our modern economy. A community where young adults remain engaged after graduation, and are energized toward building a vibrant multi-ethnic democracy. They work together, alongside a deep pride in being a global citizen — knowing more, caring more, and doing more to contribute to a more peaceful, sustainable, and just world.

World Savvy works to make this vision a reality — because it’s what all students deserve.

“It’s definitely the most comprehensive professional development experience I’ve had that deals with world problems and 21st century skills, and really what a lot of our students are most concerned about. I think a lot of times what we’re teaching them are skills that get them into college and not necessarily skills for how they’re going to be able to solve problems in a more complex future.”

- Sue Campbell, World Savvy Educator at Ecole Bilingue de Berkeley, Berkeley, CA
