LOCAL: research based all natural bug repellent as an alternative to DEET which has proven harmful side effects

“Our global solution for malaria will come from the profits of our bug spray. With the purchase of each bottle, we will pay for a package of citronella seeds that will be sent to Malawi. This country has received bug spray already through other organizations, therefore our solution will be a new method to prevent mosquitoes. Stony Brook University conducted an experiment that concludes the effectiveness of citronella plants to repel mosquitoes.”
